

I think it is wrong. NAB knows that satellite radio is the future state of the art tech. in Radio Broadcast. They are just trying to hold back what's bound to happen eventually. Trying to hold there market while they still can. Even so eventually technology will win!

It's just like the FDA, Drug Industry, Medical Insurance's and our so called 'modern medicine' with there view on holistic, natural, and environmental medicine therapies. There is clear evidence out there that it works and can cure conditions. Not take meds for the rest of your life that chemically hide symptoms, and you still die sooner anyway. If the bigger corporations are not getting a cut, they will just come up with a bogus study, no scientific evidence, or some other ploy to disprove the alternative. Threw that in being I am in the process of curing my self of Chronic Fatigue Syndrome. Where the cause was the environmental toxin Arsenic. Western medicine was no help and just destroyed my credit let alone life.

XM Listener/Supporter for life! ?or at least when I can afford it? :)
